

Extract from website of Alex Willis Funeral Home, Heysham

“In 1955 the business was then passed to Arthur Willis and Albert McVernon, Alex Willis’s son and son in law where they continued the family’s tradition until 1968 when Arthur retired.

It was then that the business moved to its present site at Hunter Lodge on Middleton Road in Heysham under Albert McVernon where a purpose built funeral home was built incorporating private chapels, a main chapel seating 40 people, a mortuary, offices and garages for their fleet of Daimler limousines.”